Re: Potter Valley Project (FERC Project No. 77) - Comments to PG&E's March 17, 2023
Dam Compliance Safety Report

Dear Chairman Phillips:

The County of Lake has reviewed PG&E's March 17, 2023 Dam Compliance Safety Report, which proposed to leave the dam gates open year-round as an "interim risk-reduction" measure to limit potential seismic instability of Scott Dam. PG&E proposes to have this measure remain in place "until long-term measures are developed and implemented." Given our past efforts to raise the County of Lake's known to your commission, we will keep these comments brief.

PG&E is attempting to leverage a "simplified seismic stability analysis" to justify what was announced as a permanent lowering of the gates, even though the more rigorous seismic analysis has not yet been completed. PG&E seeks to determine the future of the Lake Pillsbury Community, the economic factors which influence the County of Lake's recovery after a prolonged and destructive pandemic, what is allowed to exist in the County's ecosystem, and the very access to an available water source in a county plagued for years by drought and wildfires.

Water resources in the County of Lake have been critical for agriculture, environmental resources, and communities. Even with recent rainfall, ensuring a stable and viable water system is still crucial. Lake Pillsbury provides an important source of water to many surrounding communities, whose water supply would be severely compromised by this interim measure.

Lake County residents have repeatedly faced the horrors of wildfires and the County has lost 60% of its land mass due to wildfire. Yet, PG&E proposes to significantly reduce the one resource that can extinguish these horrors, all while waiting for the completion of long-term measures which may never arrive. There are no comparable alternate sources for additional water. The fire chiefs in the County of Lake can speak to the critical nature of Lake Pillsbury in its fire-fighting efforts, not just in prior years but in this very year. The proposed measure would result in the substantial depletion of a large reservoir of water in an area heading towards a high fire fuel growth season for this year and beyond.

Before any measures, interim or long-term, are approved, there should be an extensive analysis of the measure's exacerbating impacts on wildfire risk to determine whether the measure will exacerbate the risk of wildfire ignition and spread. Such an analysis must take Lake County specifically into account. The risks of this measure should not be imposed upon the County of Lake in order to effect a hypothetical benefit to PG&E. The wildfire risks of this measure should not be imposed upon the County of Lake for a proposal that will likely have long-term drought effects beyond the proposed due date of December 1, 2024. See PG&E's Compliance Dam Report (December 28, 2022). With prior extensions habitually requested by PG&E, each year that passes increases the risk of severe drought to Lake County residents with insufficient water levels used to fight wildfires. Id.

The County of Lake appreciates very much the consideration of your Commission. We ask the FERC to introduce a larger perspective in reviewing this interim measure and to consider that on its face, all rhetoric and analysis aside, PG&E seeks to achieve its goals at the expense of the County of Lake, its communities, its ecosystem, and its safety from wildfires. To legitimize this proposal will allow PG&E to dictate critical aspects of Lake County's future with no accountability afterward.

Sincerely,

LLOYD C. GUINTIVANO
County Counsel
